

Life Discarded: 148 Diaries Found In The Trash

In a nondescript dumpster in New York City, a treasure trove of lost lives was discovered. 148 diaries, discarded and forgotten, lay hidden among the refuse. These diaries, written by people from all walks of life, offer a unique and intimate glimpse into the human experience.

In Life Discarded, award-winning photographer and author Richard Renaldi presents a stunning collection of photographs and excerpts from these extraordinary diaries. Through stunning black-and-white images, Renaldi captures the essence of the diaries' authors, their hopes, dreams, fears, and secrets. The accompanying text provides context and insights into the lives of these individuals, revealing the universal themes that connect us all.
