- Critical thinking and problem-solving: The program emphasizes critical thinking, problem-solving, and independent research, equipping students with the skills necessary to navigate complex issues and make informed decisions.
- International mindedness: The program fosters a deep understanding of global issues and perspectives, promoting tolerance, understanding, and empathy among students.
- University preparation: The Oxford IB Diploma Programme is highly regarded by universities around the world, providing students with a competitive edge in the admissions process.

- Global recognition: The IB Diploma is recognized by universities and employers in over 150 countries, opening doors to a world of opportunities.

The Oxford IB Diploma Programme: A Comprehensive Curriculum

The Oxford IB Diploma Programme offers a comprehensive curriculum that covers six subject groups:

1. Studies in Language and Literature: This group develops students' literary and linguistic skills through the study of world literature, literature in translation, and literary theory.
2. Language Acquisition: This group focuses on developing proficiency in a second or third language through the study of its grammar, vocabulary, and culture.
3. Individuals and Societies: This group explores the human experience through the study of history, geography, economics, and anthropology, fostering an understanding of human behavior and social systems.
4. Sciences: This group provides a rigorous foundation in the natural sciences through the study of biology, chemistry, physics, and environmental science.
5. Mathematics: This group develops students' mathematical skills and understanding through the study of pure mathematics, applied mathematics, and statistics.
6. The Arts: This group fosters creativity and artistic expression through the study of visual arts, music, theater, and dance.

Assessment and Evaluation in the Oxford IB Diploma Programme

The Oxford IB Diploma Programme employs a rigorous assessment system that measures students' knowledge, skills, and understanding. Assessments take various forms, including:

- Internal assessments: Conducted by teachers throughout the course, these assessments evaluate students' abilities in a variety of ways, such as essays, presentations, and projects.
- External assessments: These standardized examinations are administered at the end of the two-year program and assess students' knowledge and skills across the six subject groups.

The IB Diploma is awarded to students who successfully complete all assessments and meet the program's requirements. Students can achieve a score ranging from 1 to 7 in each subject, with 7 being the highest possible score. The total score out of 45 points determines the student's overall IB Diploma result.
